Stainless steel sophistication

ASLAN expands colour range for its metal effect films.

ASLAN, Schwarz GmbH & Co. KG, supplier of innovative, self-adhesive speciality film products, has added yet another new product to its range of metal effect films. Available now, the new addition to the successful ASLAN CA 23 line, which already comprised six colours, has a sophisticated stainless steel look.

This brushed-look self-adhesive film with a double-sided matt finish has an exterior durability of at least two years and can be used for a variety of creative applications.

With the same surface effect on both sides, the polyester films in the ASLAN CA 23 range make for a wonderful, eye-catching metallic look for a variety of applications, including glass. They add a touch of sophistication to letterings, graphics and emblems and, with Christmas approaching, they provide real attention grabbers for shop designs.

ASLAN CA 23 comes in 25 m rolls with a maximum width of 1.25 m.
